

Page 1 — General Notes and Homepage Text

Notice: Do not end statements and sentences with a period at the end of the line, while trying to avoid repeated commas

1. Logo + Name + License Number

The logo, name, and license number must be displayed clearly

License No. (304)

It must be clear to the customer, easy to read, and the page colors should be consistent with the logo

2. Font Type Used on the Website

Prefer using Font 8 for headings: Bold

Use Font 8 for body text: Medium

(The font type will be sent separately)

3. Modify the Texts and Some Paragraphs in the Sections

For example:

Proposed:

“Your first step toward a trusted worker starts with Masarah HR”

“We review documents and licenses before taking any action, so you can make a clear choice and follow an official process from the beginning until arrival”

“Recruit your domestic worker, without surprises or long waiting”

“We handle every step — from official documentation to the worker arriving at your doorstep — and keep you updated on where your request has reached”

License Number: 304

Replace the following text from the proposed version and place it on the image above

Delete the companies section, or anything related to companies, completely

Example of the section to be removed:

“Your company’s first employee: from contract requirements to arrival”

As shown in the image below

Also add the letter “■” to the “For Families” section shown in the image above

Page 4 — Packages Section

3. Packages Section

Care and Support

11,900 SAR — “Same recruitment + qualification follow-up and replacement support for the first year” (Most Requested)

Delete the part marked with a circle

Page 6 — Pricing Text and Additional Sections

Modify the following statement:

“Each pathway is displayed with its starting price and everything included. No hidden items — details are determined through a special request, and the final price is confirmed with you before anything begins”

To:

“Each pathway shows the service price, and the details are determined by submitting your requests and specifying the type of service to be provided”

Replace the word “Know” with “View the Prices” without a comma or adding the rest of the sentence

Add some sections, for example

Page 7 — Icons, Recruitment Process, Guarantee, Government Logo

If possible, change the icons shown in the image above to other shapes

Here is the link to the image above for the recruitment procedures:

<https://www.almahera.sa/>

60-day guarantee (We guarantee the worker for up to two months)

Change the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Development logo to the modern version

At the top of the homepage, preferably place the following phrases

Page 8 — Homepage Copy

For example:

“Your main destination

for a unique recruitment experience that meets your expectations”

For example:

“Masarah HR

is considered one of the leading companies in domestic worker recruitment in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, with high international and professional standards”

Page 9 — Footer, Social/Platform Section and Map

Replace “Follow Masarah” with:
“Find Us On”

Remove the word “Platform” from the website completely

Add the company's geographical location to the page in the form of a Google Maps map:
<https://maps.app.goo.gl/c1wcUjpBR7ozNYK5>

Page 10 — Weaknesses and Consistency

Weaknesses

1. Missing actual license number

The “About Us” section should be independent

The official license number should be prominent + a dedicated section should exist at the bottom of the page

2. Government logos are strangely duplicated (fourth image)

Repeating the same two logos (Musaned / Foreign Affairs) twice next to each other suggests a possible carousel/loop issue. It must be properly checked to ensure the carousel is not left empty due to an infinite loop or incomplete content

3. Testimonials without visible verification

“4.9/5 Google Verified” — verified from where? If it is not connected to an external review platform, the number loses its persuasive value. If it is genuinely verified, it should be linked to a Reviews source that the customer can independently verify

Consistency and Page Harmony

1. Backgrounds change without a clear pattern — the same section (FAQ, Packages) moves between navy and cream backgrounds without an obvious sequential logic (image 5 navy, image 9 cream, image 6 navy, image 10 cream). This makes the page feel like different templates were cut and pasted rather than one unified design system. There should be a consistent system: for example, every “Information” section on cream and every CTA section on navy — a repeated pattern with logic, not randomness

Page 11 — Contrast, Typography, Layout and Social Accounts

3. Text contrast is weak in certain areas

In image 8, the light-gray text on the navy background (“We work through known recruitment channels...”) has low contrast and is difficult to read quickly. The same applies to the small golden texts (“Masarah HR Brief”) — light gold on cream is close to the readability threshold

4. Gold is used too frequently without hierarchy — buttons, separators, icons, stars, and everything is gold. When every element is “special,” nothing is actually distinctive. The solution is to reserve gold only for action elements (CTA buttons) and return the rest to calmer shades (gray / light navy)

5. Typography

The bold / decorative style of the large headings (such as “A Documented Pathway to the Kingdom” in image 8 and “Trusted Pathways to the Kingdom” in image 12) looks premium, but it is difficult to read quickly, especially in long sentences. In a service sector like this, heading clarity is more important than visual luxury — the customer reads the heading in two seconds while in a hurry, rather than contemplating an artistic font

The contrast between the heading font (decorative/linear) and the body font (simple) is also too sharp — it gives the impression that they were designed with two different visual tastes. It is preferable to bring the two styles closer together or use one font with multiple weights: Bold for headings and Regular for body text

6. Layout

Cards (packages, countries, testimonials) are well organized and evenly sized — this part is technically sound and comfortable to the eye

There is repetition in the logos (noticed in the previous analysis) — this is an implementation issue, not a design issue, and should be fixed in the code

Whitespace is generally good; there is no overcrowding, which makes the page comfortable to read

Social Media Accounts:

2. Instagram — masarah_hr
3. Facebook — masarah_hr
